Japanese Declare They Will Be Firm.

(From Saturday's daily.)

HAT the Japanese of the city think of Dr. Cofer, Federal quarantine officer, and what they want done with him, were set forth in words which were hot and fervent, at the Japanese mass-meeting at the Japanese school, in Nuuanu street, last evening. Notwithstanding the words of the speakers were direct charges of incorrect behavior toward the women of the race, there was absolute quiet. Though there were 1,500 of the men of the colony present, the utmost orderliness prevailed and the only interruption was when one excited man shouted, "We must appeal to Washington."

There were few features to the meet ing, except the appearance of Japanese speakers, who spoke in both the ver-nacular and in English, and the pretty effect produced by the decorations of the grounds. There were strings of lanterns, flags of the nation and high lights, while the men, many in evening clothes, and the women in bright colors, added to the picturesqueness of the The crowd was one which could be wrought to a high state of excitement, and they often broke into applause upon the utterance of some sentiment of honoring the women or unity of purpose which appealed to them.

That Japan has new women was shown when two daughters of the soil made addresses, one in Japanese and the other in English. The closest attention was paid to the speakers and their points were often cheered to the echo. The meeting lasted until a late hour, as there were men present who had prepared an address and they must have the chance. But leaving out these features there was the deep underlying current of patriotism to the home country, to indicate that they would have a hard time who would meet the Japanese when they had their deepest feelings aroused.

The meeting was called to order by C. Shiozawa, who introduced the chair-man of the meeting, O. Oshada, agent of the Kei Hin Bank. Mr. Oshada was for many years member of the Japan-Parliament and was an ideal presiding officer, taking part in all the E. the investigating committee. He wrought the crowd into a frenzy of applause when he told how the women eried for very shame when they were subjected to the indignity of the exammation, and asked if there should not be a protest.

A. K. Ozawa made one of the best advents of the incoming of the America sick person, and Maru, and how the Japanese passen-gers and officers of the ship had to Oriental steerage passengers, they were stand examinations which were not required of the Caucasians of the ship's company. He pleaded with the men to take the matter without any heat, but admitted that the provocation the matter to the hands of an unbias- said passengers, and He said that the duty of Dr. Cofer was physician and no attempt being made at no difficulty in making the case clear. was any chance, but if he got off the cabin passengers; they being merely retrack, the duty of the people was to quired to pass before the examining phycondemn him, which brought out shouts of applause and determination. Speak-ing of the examination of the women of the party, he said that it was an insult not only to the women but to Japsult not only to the women but to Jap-anese generally. He said that he be-layed that the superconsul and the Wherens. The said vice-consul and the lieved that the surgeon was an opinionated man, that he would not treat to a physical examination of their per-the people right, and that there must be mistake, that any explanation from ever, and such a man must be viewed with sus-Cofer to narrow-mindedness and preju-

Cofer to narrow-mindedness and prejudice.

There were several women who spoke, but the address of Mrs. Imanishi, delivered in English, was most to the point. She said that if the women of the country wanted to secure the respect of the community they must respect themselves. She thought there would be not one of the women of this country but would protest against the treatment accorded to the sex. She thought there were subjected to a physical examination thereof by the male examining physicians in a manner outrageous and revolting to their feelings and delicacy, after the Caucasian lady passengers of the first cabin had been passed by the physician with no examination whatsoever, and whereas, These examinations were made by the direct orders and under the supervision of the said United States physician for the port of Honolulu, Dr. L. E. Cofer, and treatment accorded to the sex. She said that the people came from clean ports and a clean bill of health.

whether or not there were any of the primary symptoms of the disease, but that his not doing so was a sign of improper use of authority. He thought that there should be the same treatproper use of authority. He thought that there should be the same treatment given to every one. There was much labor expended in getting up the memorial and all should sign it.

There were dozens of addresses but all were fairly of this order, until the ministers spoke of the pleasure of seeing the Japanese working in harmony. Then C. Shlozawa again spoke of the outrage and offered the following reso-nolulu Stock and Bond Exchange during the month past, is shown by the fact that taking all the sales reported, the entire number of brokers engaged in the market have not earned more than $1,200, and perhaps it will be a less sum. That this is too large an amount is indicated by a report which was made of one sale recently, where the sale was put down at 1,000 shares, and the total which was taken, out of the amount for which buyer at first contracted, was little more than ten per cent of that number Altogether it was a short month and marked by many peculiar signs. In the most prominent place the brokers place the activity in the bond market. The constant and large buying in local securities of this nature indicates to those who follow the market closely that there is a large amount of capital which has begun to seek safe and not speculative investment, at least during the present period of inactivity in the shares market. As long as there develops this condition there will be no marked recovery in the stocks.

As indicating that there is little movement in the market there were no sales yesterday, and the offerings were mostly withdrawn, so that the quotations might not be made, simply for the purpose of breaking the market. One member of the Exchange tried vainly to sell Oahu at 131, but he could not find a taker. This indicates that the outside public has too much to do to keep cool to allow thoughts of stocks to enter. Altogether there might be taken a long vacation for the purpose of resting up for the fall campaign. and the stock market be little damaged.

The real estate market seems little better, though there were several sales of building sites during the week. One of the largest of these was that of four College Hills lots, to H. M. Lewis. Mr. Lewis has already given the orders for plans for his house, and he will have it put under contract as soon as possible, with the idea of getting into his new home at an early date. The agents say they have frequent calls for lots, and several are under consideration. The same report comes from the other end of the Rapid Transit line, but in the Nuuanu valley the sales are largely of small lots, on which the amount to put down is small.

Business property is lacking purchasers now, though there are some of ferings of buildings which are earning as high as fifteen per cent, but there seems to be little hope of making a large deal at this time. It is dog days in real property as well as in stocks. There are some new blocks under discussion, but none have reached a state where they may be made public. The report that there will be new structures at King and Alakea streets is revived. but there is nothing to indicate that there is any change in the position of the owners at this time.

Bremen: 5,000 tons engagements; 1,400 tons refined shipped.

Itaws—The week under review has been quiet, and little business doing, and quotations remained unchanged until near the close, when a little pressure to sell some sugars on the dock caused a decline of 1-32c in centrifugals, and 1-16c in muscovados and molasses sugars. The receipts were 34,794 tons, and but few of these came on the market for sale, which was fortunate, as buyers showed little disposition to purchase. At the close the European markets showed an increased strength. The improvement in London is caused by weather conditions and drought in Germany. Little, if any further decline is looked for here, and with European firmness and gradual reduction in stocks, our markets should remain steady at the current quotations, but without any improvement looked for.

Refined—The refined market was considerably demoralized throughout the week. The Arbuckle refinery early in the week reduced quotation to 5.35c.

Refined—The refined market was considerably demoralized throughout the week. The Arbuckle refinery early in the week reduced quotation to 5.35c list for granulated, and near the close of the week the Howell and McCahan refineries made the same reductions in sale prices, although maintaining posted rate basis 5.45c, while the A. S. R. Co. reduced list prices 5c per 100 pounds to 5.45c basis, and will protect their customers to the full extent of the decline. The demand for refined largely increased at the reduction, and it is not impossible that a recovery of a portion of the cut may take placenext week. All the refiners are behind in shipments. Guarantees are given to date of arrival, and 30 to 60 days delay would be allowed. The weather is hot, and decidedly favorable for the consumption of sugar. Fourth. That the examination as conducted was an unjust and unreasonable discrimination between the Oriental and the Caucasian passengers and a direct and personal insult to the former, and to the Japanese Government in the person of its vice-consul for Honolulu.

Fifth. That the said Dr. L. E. Cofer, port physician for the United States for Honolulu, has, by his conduct in this matter and his responsibility therefor, shown himself a person of narrow mind, hasty and ill-advised in action; actuated by race prejudice and local feeling; lacking in courtesy and decency and in proper respect for womankind; that he is an unworthy representative of the Govern-ment of the United States for the im-portant position that he at present oc-cuples; that his conduct in this matter deserves, and we hereby give it, the strongest censure and condemnation.

Sixth. That his conduct in this matter has shown his total unfitness for his position; that his continuance in office at this port, where there is constantly a large Oriental travel, will be a source of constant bitterness and friction between the Japanese and himself and between heir respective Governments.

He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long that it was almost a bloody flux. I asked him if he and tried Chamberlain's Diarrhoea Remedy, and he said, 'No,' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes, if he did not find relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured. MAKE RUM

Plan for a Great Distillery Here.

ISTILLING OF RUM from mo lasses which is procured from the various plantations of the Islands will be the newest industry to start in this city. There has been formed a corporation, the papers for which may be introduced at any time now, which will have for its business the procuring of all waste molasses from the various estates, the making of spirits and the feeding of hogs on the re sultant bi-product.

There has been no site definitely fixed on for the location of the proposed plant, but it is thought that it will be located in Kalihi. The supply of mo-lasses will come from the plantations along the railroad and a large tract which could be reached from the railroad is now under negotiation. Should this be taken there will be experienced no difficulty about the gathering of the raw material for distillation, the se curing of the supply of fuel, or the distribution of the raw rum and hogs he live and the lively products of the distillery and feeding ranch. The stock is said to be held in strong hands and there is money enough in sight to insure the success of the scheme, men behind it are principally Merchant street brokers.

The greatest difficulty in the past in etting a favorable report upon a plan for such a distillery has been the fact that the mills on the modern estates use all the saccharine substance that is securable from the sugar, and leave little molasses. The result has been always before that there has been reluctance to get into a plan which means the use of some new system of handling the raw material, as the best rum is made from high-value molasses. There is now a supply of the fluid on hand to keep a distillery going for many years, and it is the plan to get down to business soon so as to prevent the destruction of the bi-product of the mills before the projectors of the distillery can get their storage plant ready

The decision to use the refuse to fatten hogs is one which has met with the approval of some of the killers of that meat animal, and the profit in it will be highest of either of the ventures. Rum-making was tried here some years ago, but the plant was not kept up for a long time. Within the last decade there has been no attempt to make this use of the refuse from a sugar mill. It is understood that Frank Brown of the Hawaiian Wine Company is the principal mover in the corporation, but last evening he refused to discuss the matter, saying that It was not ripe. Many of the expected stockholders fall to understand the delay, and are clamoring for the finish ing of the organization.

Princess Theresa Wilcox's account of ant to the Samoan throne, against Matafa, is reported as having decided to take the oath of allegiance to the German Government. It is said that he has announced that he will shortly return to but whether she misses most the comher sojourn in Washington makes very good reading. That she regrets leaving the great American capital is evident Apla and that as a reward for his allegi-ance he is to be made a member of the advisory board to the Governor on the advisory board to the Governor on the same footing with Mataafa. If this is so the old breach between the two native is hard to determine from the narrative.
